Shiatsu...

It is the Japanese word for massage ... shi (finger) and atsu (pressure). It is a massage method that fights the imbalance of the body and follows the same principles of energy and meridians as the acupressure. The aim of shiatsu is to rebalance the flow of vital energy in our body and therefore calms many ills. Usually it is done on a futon or on the floor and it is excellent for helping to calm the effects of jet lag after a flight. Shiatsu, from its origin recommends that prevention is better than a cure. A weekly session helps to keep up your good health.

We recommend you to come in comfortable clothes.
